BLACK HISTORY SPECIAL

Morningside Primary School @Morningside_ps · Oct 14

Thank you @HackneyMuseum for the brilliant virtual workshop for our #Year6 students. The children really enjoyed learning about mixed media art and how African heritage individuals have shaped Hackney to be what it is today. It links perfectly to our #history and #art learning.

Value of the Week

Black History Week MORNINGSIDE

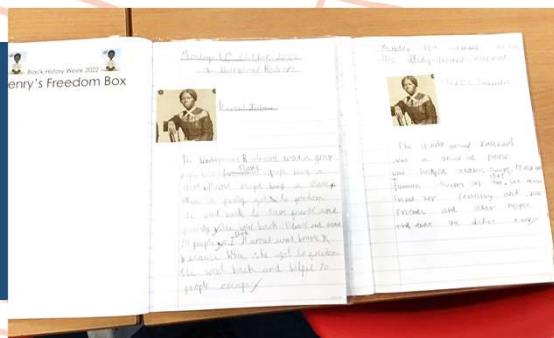

Nursery have been making Jamaican necklaces for Black History Week! We have been reading the stories 'One Love' and 'Every Little Thing' by Bob Marley during Black History Month 2022

This week we have been exploring Caribbean culture through stories, food, art, music, dance and clothing. Our study country is Trinidad and Tobago which links to our focus story 'Coming to England' by Floella Benjamin.

Year 1 enjoyed learning about Rosa Parks and her fight for black people. We read a book about her life and wrote a recount.

As part of Black History Week, Year 2 have been learning about the Underground Railroad.

Black History Week

MORNINGSIDE

To celebrate Black History Month Year 3 explored Hackney Museum Movers, Shakers and Community Makers exhibit to discover how African heritage has shaped Hackney through out history.

In art Year 4 are learning how to print. We drew designs based off African patterns for Black History Month. Super art Year 4!

Year 5 went to Hackney Museum for the 'Movers, Shakers and Community Makers' exhibition, where they learnt the cultural contribution that Africa has made on Hackney

Thank you Hackney Museum for the brilliant virtual workshop for our Year 6 students. The children really enjoyed learning about mixed media art and how African heritage individuals have shaped Hackney to be what it is today. It links perfectly to our history and art learning.

Who am I?

My name is Magdalena Wydra and I am a CAMHS Clinical working for First Steps CAMHS Community in Hackney the CAMHS Worker in School (CWIS) for Morningside.

I visit the school twice a month (Tuesdays) to provide support and advice on children's and families' emotional well-being so that we can support all children to thrive and achieve. We would like to offer some sessions for parents if you have any questions about your child's emotions, relationships or behaviour, want ideas for supporting a child or would like a space to think about your own well-being, you can drop in for a chat.

Guided by you, I could:

- Provide advice about how to support a child's emotional well-being or behaviour. For example, discussing ways to help your child to feel more confident or improve their behaviour. Discuss your child's worries and anxieties, perhaps sleep difficulties, or discuss strategies on how to manage your morning routine.
- Provide information on local services that provide additional support for children. For example, First Steps or Young Hackney.
- Provide a space for you to speak about the challenges of being a parent. Being a parent can be both incredibly rewarding and challenging and having a space to share these challenges can be helpful.
- Provide information and advice if you are considering accessing support for yourself. As a parent, it is really important to prioritise your own well-being too. I can provide information on services for parents such as parent groups, counselling and bereavement services, Mindfulness courses and coffee afternoons.
